

Bacon Cattle & Sheep

The Bacon family have been raising club lambs for over 20 years. If you've been around for a while, you most likely remember Cassie, Justin or Amanda showing sheep across the state of Arkansas and the nation ending their show careers with many champion banners. The operation is now managed by Craig and Debbie Bacon along with their daughter and son-in-law Amanda and Kirk Boecker.

The family prides itself on investing and building on its flock's genetics by making connections with breeders and friends across the nation and utilizing Embryo Transfer and Artificial Insemination. Through their A.I. and E.T. work they are able to produce lambs out of elite genetics from their own flock and those flocks across the nation who are raising the most talked about rams and donors.

The family doesn't just raise sheep to raise sheep, their goal is to produce elite lambs that can bring 4-H and FFA youth across the nation success in the show ring. They understand the time and money it costs to travel and find lambs, so they've done that work for you and are raising lambs out of those elite genetics right here in Arkansas.

They invite you to come see their operation of 100 plus ewes and donors and annual 120 plus spring lambs in Siloam Springs, AR anytime you are able. Their one and only goal is to see their customers succeed, so buying a lamb from the Bacon family comes with as much time, help and advice around showing and feeding your lamb(s) as you want!

They annually host a show clinic free to their customers and open to anyone who would like to attend. Watch their Facebook page for lamb sales and events including the show clinic and jackpot show they host annually.
